

AAEE Awards

Priscilla A. Scotlan Award For Distinguished Service

The Priscilla A. Scotlan Award for Distinguished Service honors an AAEE member who has made significant contributions to our national association over a period of years. Nominations will be reviewed for excellence in service and leadership to the profession and to the association. Nominations may be made by members, and by the Awards and Recognition Committee. Additional criteria include:

Service

Nominees shall have rendered exemplary service to AAEE and, where possible, to their state or regional associations.

Leadership

Nominees should be recognized by other professionals in the field, by employers in education and by their own institutions as leaders in the field of educational career services or school human resources administration.

Membership

Each nominee's institution must have held five years of continuous membership in the American Association for Employment in Education.
